Date of issue    Apr 04, 2017 | ID: 207187

The all-new Volvo XC60 will make its North American debut at the 2017 New York International Auto Show. The XC60 marks the start of the new 60 series cars featuring Volvo's new award-winning design language built on the company's Scalable Product Architecture.

Lex Kerssemakers, President and CEO of Volvo Car USA will debut the XC60 and the 2018 S90 during Volvo Cars' press conference scheduled for 2:15PM on Wednesday, April 12, 2017.

The all-new XC60 features an athletic design with a graceful, timeless quality. The expertly crafted interior features beautiful materials that blend Scandinavian design with technology and connectivity. The XC60 will be available with a 250 hp T5 turbo-power engine, 316 hp T6 turbo and super-charged engine or 400 hp T8 twin-engine plug-in electric hybrid.

The 2018 S90 will also debut at the show with updates for the new model year. The S90 was first introduced in 2016 and has set a benchmark for interior style in the luxury sedan marketplace.

In April 2017, Volvo Cars will celebrate 90 years since the first vehicle, ÖV4, rolled off the assembly line in 1927. To celebrate this milestone, Volvo Car USA welcomes media attendees to a light lunch and champagne toast at 11:45AM on Thursday, April 13, 2017. A fully restored Volvo 123 "Amazon" Wagon, Duett and P1800, along with time-period photography, will be on display.
